The life of a FRILAND ORGANIC pig

All sows are free range.

All organic pigs are born in pig shelters in open fields.

The tails of organic pigs are not docked.

After weaning, the organic pigs are kept in housing with access at all times to outdoor runs/areas.

Organic pigs are kept in runs with plenty of space, lots of straw and room to move about.

The feed is 100% organic and always GMO-free.

Throughout the year, the pigs are fed lots of organic roughage, so the pigs naturally feel replete.

All use of medication is supervised by veterinarians – with twice as long a withdrawal period as conventionally reared pigs.

Recommended by Animal Protection Denmark.

Friland Organic pork is awarded three out of three hearts by the animal welfare label introduced by the Danish government:
'Bedre Dyrevelfærd' (Better Animal Welfare).

Always Danish pork – born, reared and slaughtered in Denmark.
